Armenians to Commemorate 2 Million Martyrs Sunday

Holy Shoghagat Armenian Apostolic Church, East St. Louis, will hold a Requiem Mass and memorial service commemorating two million Armenian martyrs who died during the Armenian genocide of World War I at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The parish, which has members residing in the Quad Cities, is joining Armenian congregations throughout the world in observance of Armenian Memorial Day called by His Holiness, Vazken I, supreme patriarch and catholicos of all Armenians, who resides at the Holy See of the Armenian Church in Armenia.

A dinner will follow the service at 2 p.m. in the church hall. Speakers will be Hmayag Matosian of Granite City, a survivor of a massacre by a Turkish sultan government which lasted five years; James Emejian, Southern Illinois University professor; and Very Rev. Komidas Badoian, pastor of the church located at 1115 Summit avenue.

The invocation will be given by Rev. James Genasio of St. Henry's Catholic Church, East St. Louis, and the benediction by Rev. Arthur B. Smith of the First Presbyterian Church, East St. Louis.

Songs will be presented by Miss Carla Craig, Buzet's "Agnus Dei," and by Father Badoian, "Grange" (the Crane). Piano accompanist will be Mrs. Julie Matosian.

Poems will be recited by Richard Norsigian of East St. Louis, Abraham Kambarian of Granite City and Armenian school students.

Guests will include Mayor Alvin G. Fields of East St. Louis, Rev. William L. Leiby, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, East St. Louis; and Rev. James C. Sims, First Methodist Church, East St. Louis.

Morning Schedule
The morning service calls for the morning service at 10 a.m., the Divine Liturgy at 10:30 a.m. and the Requiem Mass at 11:45 a.m. Father Badoian will be the celebrant.

In announcing the 50th anniversary, the pastor noted that heads of other Christian churches throughout the world have agreed to join in the observance and special messages from Pope Paul VI and Most Rev. De. Michael Ramsey, archbishop of Canterbury. Various American states also have proclaimed April 24 as Armenian Memorial Day.

Father Badoian cited part of the message from the church patriarchate in further explaining the events of 50 years ago.

"Today, with our hearts a sea of sorrows, we recall the memory of the awful tragedy which began on April 24, 1915, and continued for five whole years, and which destroyed the entire Armenian population in Western Armenia along with fearful suffering, planned and put into execution by the genocidal government of the Turkish sultans.

"Nearly two million Armenians were martyred, hundreds of prosperous villages, towns, churches, monasteries, many of them impressive historic monuments of Armenian architecture, were put to the torch and destroyed."

Appointed to head the demonstration's national prison work in 1963, the Rev. Markstrom will be presenting the most up to date and modern approaches to the rehabilitation of criminals engulfed in today's escalating crime wave, which are now being advocated by entire states. Because of the present urgent need across the nation among prisoners, Rev. Markstrom has been asked to present more than just that with church fellowships can do in this behalf.

Since the program was begun in 1951, free literature and Bible courses have been prepared and given to prisoners. More than 95,000 courses have been sent out and over 4500 are actively enrolled in study courses including such titles as Outstanding Bible Characters, Church History, the Book of Acts and others.

Sewer Ordinance Being Revived In Nameoki Twp.

Plans for adoption of the much-delayed $125,000 Nameoki township sewer and treatment plant construction ordinance were revived Monday night when town auditors were told that the bonding ordinance had been received by Atty. Gen. Glitschoff from the Chicago bond legal firm of Chapman & Cutler, Supervisor Harry Briggs reported to the board he had not yet seen the ordinance, but he presumed the revised version now includes the village of Pontoon Beach. He added that board members would shortly review the bill "step-by-step" before its formal adoption. However, no date was set for the discussion or final action.

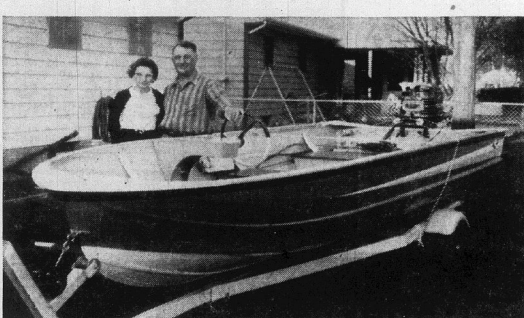

The controversial sewer and treatment plant construction project was originally designed to include the Pontoon Beach area. When no action was taken by the village board, the village area was excluded. Still later, it was again revised to re-include Pontoon Beach after the village board voted 4-to-3 to participate. The village is included in the largest portion of the construction phase, which includes Miracle Manor, and the village area is originally planned at an estimated cost of $1263,000. The other two sections of the plan are East Madison-Cleveland Addition, $226,395 and State Park Place, $257,000.

20-Day for Petitions
Opponents of the sewer proposal had attempted to have the ordinance adopted by the town board prior to the April 6 election, in order to hold a referendum at the same time to avoid the additional financial expense of a special election. Petitions for a referendum on the sewer issue must be filed within a 20-day period of the adoption of the ordinance by the town board.

In other discussion by the board Monday night, Briggs reported that no further action can be taken at the present time on a township land use study by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission as was proposed by the board last month. Briggs said a recent discussion with Theodore Mikosoff, SWDMAP executive director, brought out that any legislation may enable the township to be reimbursed two-thirds of the cost of such a study from federal sources.

Current Statutes governing SWDMAP. Briggs pointed out, do not include townships for independent reimbursement. He added that Mikosoff is hopeful that passage of the new legislation will permit a two-year growth study of a three-county area, including Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

Plans to provide a drainage system and complete street improvements on a two-block area of Skion street, Madison, have been halted, Briggs said, as no runoff area is available. He said that negotiations in progress with Madison city authorities

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Turkish Genocide of 1915 which was fostered by the Armenian nation, according to the Rev. Goran Sarkisian, who will be the co-officiant of the Divine Liturgy at a solemn Requiem service at St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church in Granite City. He will be assisted by Asadour Badalian, St. Gregory's pastor.

In addition to Sen. Simon, there will be other speakers and presentations to appropriately mark the occasion. The Armenian population of the two-state area will commemorate the day together with other sympathetic neighbors and friends.

Bellcoff Renamed Board President; Derner Secretary

John Bellcoff, Madison grocer, was re-elected to his 13th year as president of the Madison board of education during a reorganization meeting Tuesday night.

Frank Derner, re-elected to the board this month, was named board secretary to succeed Oel Blumenstock, who also was just re-elected to the board.

An official canvass of the ballots in the school election gave Blumenstock 446 votes and Derner 441, unchanged from the unofficial count. Five other individuals received one write-in vote each. The two incumbents had no opposition on the ballot. Ballots totaled 471, and 50 were spoiled.

John Bellcoff was retained as school attorney and Ray Kozielek as school treasurer, at the same annual salaries of $3000 and $1500, respectively.

Brown Reappointed
Wense Brown was reappointed as superintendent of schools and will begin his 14th year in the position starting Aug. 1. His current salary is $13,200. All other personnel were retained except those resigning or leaving for other reasons.

No change was made in the rules and regulations for school board procedure, and meetings will continue to be held at 7:30 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month.

On behalf of the board, Bellcoff commended Brown for his continued efforts and success as the chief administrator of the school district.

In response, Brown recognized the cooperation on the part of board members, commenting that a superintendent would be ineffective without it. He added that the board must set policies and the superintendent can do no more than follow them.

Brown informed the board that application has been made for federal funds to aid economically deprived pre-school children through Wilbur Trimpert, superintendent, under the federal anti-poverty program and in cooperation with local and county community action committees, formed under the economic opportunity act.

He said that the schools may become involved in one or two types of about 11 possible activities coming to the attention of the community action committees.

Other Activities

In other actions the board: Employed Eldon Rhoads, 1539 Market street, as a custodian to succeed Arthur White, veteran district employee who resigned effective June 4.

Granted permission for the high school chorus to attend a choir meeting May 4 in Highland, for the purpose of their school to visit the St. Louis planetarium May 7, for the Madison grade school band to participate in a band concert Saturday at Staunton and for soloists and ensembles to participate in another concert May 1 at Mattoon.

Heard a favorable report from Amos D. Coleman, industrial arts supervisor from the state office of public instruction, who visited Dunbar grade school and the junior and senior high schools March 23.

Approved March educational salaries totaling $72,987 and lunch salaries totaling $2954 (including withholding and benefits), and March bills of $6510 from the educational fund, $3597 from the building fund and $5419 from the lunch fund.

Council Delays Decision on Zone Changes

Council members laid over until next Monday a decision on a recommendation from the City Planning Commission to grant zoning changes for a $1,250,000 apartment and shopping center development at Pontoon road and Wabash avenue.

The decision was reached Monday night despite protests by Eighth Ward Alderman Thompson, who said at least 30 persons, all residents in the vicinity of the proposed development, were there to voice objections.

Alderman Partney, chairman of the council's Planning and Zoning committee, said it was customary for the Planning Commission recommendations to be referred to the council committee before authorization is given for preparation of an amendment to the city zoning code.

During last week's hearing, a number of residents reported the acreage more than meets the building code ordinance requirements of 1500 square feet per apartment unit.

The commissioners also noted an engineering report shows no apparent difficulty with sanitary and storm sewers and that the developer is reserving portions of the tract for the widening of Wabash avenue as well as Pontoon road. Parking space for 14 cars per apartment is to be provided.

A November 1964 recommendation by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission stated the area was suitable for a garden-apartment development.

Approved by the council were five zoning variations authorized by the Zoning Appeals Board. Five-foot side lot lines to permit carports were approved for Jack Johnson, 2400 Kilmer avenue, and Adolf Knaspey, 2829 Fortune drive, and to Ray Edwards, 4024 Iowa street, for an attached garage.

Community Coach Suit Settled, Is Dismissed

A suit by David John of Granite City against the former Community Coach Co., seeking an accounting to determine stock ownership, amounts and distribution of capital to stockholders has been dismissed in Madison county circuit court as the result of an out-of-court settlement reached Feb. 15.

John, who had been a stockholder and an administrative employee of the transit firm before its sale to the Bi-State Development Co., also had asked an accounting on the amount of salary due. Details of the settlement were not disclosed. The suit was filed on Jan. 10, 1964.

Injured in Steel Plant

James Sanders, 68, East St. Louis, was treated for an injury to his right leg at St. Elizabeth Hospital shortly after 10 a.m. Wednesday. He was released after treatment. Sanders, a chairman in the county General Steel Industries, Inc., was injured when a spreader bale became unhooked from a casting and struck him on the leg.

Auto Turns, Collides

Cars driven by Norma J. Stroder, 1015 Washington avenue, Madison, and Grace L. Burch, 2613 Dogwood drive, collided at East 23rd street and Nameoki road at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday as the Burch car made a right turn onto Nameoki. The Stroder auto was going north on Nameoki.

FHA to Increase Application Fee To $35 May 1st

The Federal Housing Administration this week announced an increase in its fee for applications covering existing home properties. The increase, effective May 1, is from $25 to $35. The FHA is self-supporting, and the costs of its operations are paid from the fees and insurance premiums that it charges for its services.

The FHA has been engaged in extensive efforts through the operation of the industry to improve its service. Processing time for applications has been greatly reduced.

Groy discussed the growth of the soap industry and illustrated his talk with a series of color slides showing the various manufacturing processes.

A second guest was Lafayette Reid of the Springfield Rotary Club, who invited local members to attend a meeting of District 646, Rotary International, on May 7 and 8 in Springfield, Ill. About ten Granite City Rotarians indicated they will attend the district session.

I-C Clubs Go After Mathews Club Second Wins Sunday Merges With Blue Circle

Second victories in the young Southwestern Inter-City League season will be sought Sunday by yet another team, the Mathews Club and Sacred Heart baseball teams of Granite City.

The Mathews will meet the Troy Red Birds at Wilson Park, No. 1 here with the Hearts opposing the St. Clair Hawks at the Jones Park No. 1 in East St. Louis. All league games start at 2:30 p.m.

Mitchell A. C. has switched its name from Mitchell to Collinsville's Fletcher Field, home of defending champion Kahok Bowl (known as the Boosters last season), the fourth game pits the Polish-American War Veterans of East St. Louis at Peconic.

A late addition to the league is Mayville A-C Contracting which won't open play until May 2.

The Boosters opened Sunday with an 11-9 triumph over Collinsville in a wild game that saw last year's earned-run average leader, Bob Vetter of Kahok Bowl, fail to return to the dugout in the City batter. He walked four and hit one in his brief appearance.

Boost from Papp
Ex-Minnesota Twins minor league Charlie Papp, pitcher, new in relief, figures to lead the Boosters' 1964 race for the I-C flag.

Papp lacked some of his old sharpness Sunday but that he was hampered by the unusually hot mound at the Collinsville park.

Papp and lefty Terry Kofahl, who relieved him Sunday, were the key pitchers on Granite City high school's 1963 state runners-up.

Another ex-pro, Gary Clumber, ledged who played with the New York Mets' highly-successful Aug.

burn, N. Y., farm club, made his debut with one hit but Mercer was the hero.

Manager Eddie O'Leary's Sacred Heart team, which edged Mitchell 4-3 on Perry Taylor's six-incher, will meet what is billed as one of the league's stronger entities, The Mathews Chevrolet team of Granite City, which merged with the Blue Circle squad of St. Louis for the 1964 campaign.

The new aggregation will play in a Class AA league on Wednesday nights in the Blue Circle uniforms and stage exhibitions on the Illinois side in the Mathews suits.

Bob Stegemeyer, who managed Mathews last season, said the new team will be handled by Bill Weiler of St. Louis. Play in the St. Louis league begins early next month.

Mathews players of the team will include Ron Dillard and Leon Chappell, catchers; Babe Chappell, first baseman; Stegemeyer, shortstop; Art Borchers, third baseman and Gary Brock, Jake Stegemeyer, Roger Smith and Dan Reilly, outfielders.

Players from Blue Circle will be Ralph Baker, pitcher; Ed Heck, second baseman; Dick Clift, third baseman; Vern Stout, outfielder; and Vince Saputo, catcher. Moving over from the St. Louis Schumachers is pitcher Mel Tipton.

Among the exhibitions planned for the Mathews-Blue Circle club at Wilson Park is a June 1 encounter with the Aurora Sealmasters, two-time world champions.

Legate Totals 737
In Classic League, Blasts 278 Single

Max Legate fired a 737 series last night as the Quad-City Classic League had a particularly hot session at Bowland. Legate had totals of 255, 224 and 278.

Yock Lombardi also cracked the 700-mark by three pins and blasted 692 with a 244 single. There were 54 games over 200 and 18 series over 600.

12,000 Members sought
The council's drive to recruit active and supporting Sports Council members in all parts of the state. "Our goal is 12,000 members the first year," Farmer said. "Anyone and everyone is eligible for membership. The only qualification is their interest in sports and in furthering the council's goal to increase sport participation in the state," he added.

Plans for the summer panathlon already are underway. Organization is being handled jointly by each sport. Council directors, 40 men each representing a different sport, have begun to mobilize competition in the panathlon, Farmer said.

For example, director Robert Markey, representing sailing, has already announced an Illinois Sports Council regatta will be held this summer on Lake Michigan. In bowling, director Paul Krumsie has started a preliminary bowling tournament which will involve nearly 10,000 young bowlers in Illinois. Eliminations will be second round, April 15 and will go on through the summer.

Other directors of sport categories report great interest in the panathlon. Farmer reported, "This is typical of the reaction we're getting all through the state," he said. "It's more than we hoped for in the first panathlon, but if these early indications are valid, we could have 20,000 Illinoisans competing in one form or another in the first summer games," he added.

Minor Sports Get Aid
Emphasized in the report is the importance of assisting so-called minor sports in Illinois. Butler added. These are sports popular among small groups and in certain areas of the state. However, lack of mass popular appeal and exposure has retarded their growth over the years, he said.

The sports encouragement program provides each sport, regardless of popularity or appeal, will receive equal emphasis by the council. "Any participation increase in any sport can help the over-all state sports picture," Farmer said.

"For the council to be effective in its programs," Farmer said, "we need the support of press, local groups and individual citizens everywhere in Illinois. When we first started, the total program looked ambitious. But the reactions to it are great," he added.

Farmer asks that all teams or individual athletes in Illinois interested in competing in the panathlon write to the Sports Council at 1000 Oak Brook road, Oak Brook, Ill.

THE MADISON COUNTY SPORTSMAN

By DON HASTINGS
County Conservation Officer

Our little injured deer is progressing well and eats with a good appetite. She especially likes the tips of fruit tree limbs and buds but does not particularly care for the ground cover feed.

With cuts healed and strength gaining, she may soon be ready for release.

I had two other encounters with doe deer this week. The first not so pleasant as a nice two-year-old doe was killed on the blacktop east of Prairieville by an auto shortly after daylight. She would soon have given birth to a fawn. With five other deer she burst suddenly onto the highway and the motorist was lucky not to have wrecked and hit any of them.

The second, a little better, was on the riverfront highway between Alton and Graton. Coming down the road on flood patrol, I saw her swimming for land from one of the flooded islands. The current was strong and each time she drew near to land a driver would pull over to watch and she would be caught up again in the current.

I asked people not to stop near where she would land and she finally made it to shore. However, in front of her there was nothing but straight-up limestone bluffs.

With a lot of rock shoveling down, the doe scrambled about two thirds up until she came to a solid rock and took refuge in one of the semi-caves on the face of the bluff.

I tried to get her to move down and climb on to the top but she preferred to stay in the high cliff. I was able to get some good pictures of her trip, however.

Looting on River
With the flood waters and muddy bays, fishing has not been much. Three men from our district have been assigned to assist in flood work on the upper Mississippi. Those of us close to the river have been on flood patrol and sending a good deal of time around the summer homes and vacation cabins on the river.

Some people have been taking advantage of the flood waters to steal and peddle stolen goods using a boat. We hope to forestall a lot of this by patrolling by boat.

One question asked many times each year is whether a serviceman needs a hunting and fishing license, especially when home on leave. Although there may have been one during the last war, there is no provision in our law for this and they must have a license.

The only other provision is that a serviceman from out-of-state who is stationed here, such as at the Granite City Army Depot, can buy a resident license.

180 Groundhog Permits
The groundhog demonstration in cooperation with federal personnel and the Madison county farm advisor went very well, with large crowds and I issued about 180 permits for use of the smoke cartridge. The cartridge costs 10 cents and is available at the farm advisor's office in Edwardsville.

First, however, you must attend a demonstration and receive a permit from our department. One is required for each hole. Before inserting it in the hole, cut a plug of dirt and soil and have it adjacent to the hole. The fuse is inserted in the cartridge, lighted and placed in the hole. Then the soil plug is immediately tamped into the mouth of the hole to seal it tight. The cartridge burns up the oxygen in the hole, smothering the groundhog.

Groundhogs are plentiful so there is little fear of eliminating them but this method will assist in controlling those that are doing specific damage to crops and are hard to shoot. Be assured there will be a sufficient number to provide good rifle shooting and enough dens to provide shelter.

Don Jenkins and Cockley had two hits each and Dennis Mitchell hit a three-run double for the Chiefs.

The important point stressed to sports is to identify holes by the freshly dug dirt in the form of balls or pellets that the groundhog cleans from his hole each day and to use the hole ridges only during the 90-day permit period in the spring. During this time they have young and will not allow any other animals to come into the hole.

Sports Council Devises Encouragement Program

A five-point sports encouragement program for the state has been devised by the newly-formed Illinois Sports Council according to executive governor Jerry Farmer, former state champion swimming coach.

The program includes:

1. Illinois summer panathlon

An annual, state-wide competition in some 40 sports ranging from fencing, boating and swimming to basketball, handball, judo and sky-diving.

2. Illinois winter panathlon

An annual, state-wide competition in nearly 20 winter sports, the first to be held in January or February, 1966. Competition in both summer and winter panathlons is open to all.

3. A statewide sport survey

The survey will consist of questionnaire mailings and interviews with sports editors, coaches, and other Illinois sports authorities. According to council chairman Michael Butler, the questionnaire will return the results of a rather complete set of facts on Illinois sports and be used by the council to encourage more sports participation by more people in Illinois.

4. Development of a sport profile of Illinois—An analysis and evaluation of Illinois sports data and statistics in rank sports status by area through the state. The profile will also be used by the council as a guide in developing individual sports programs to help pinpoint, organize and coordinate local sports efforts.

5. Membership drive

The council's directors have approved a drive to recruit active and supporting Sports Council members in all parts of the state. "Our goal is 12,000 members the first year," Farmer said. "Anyone and everyone is eligible for membership. The only qualification is their interest in sports and in furthering the council's goal to increase sport participation in the state," he added.

Plans for the summer panathlon already are underway. Organization is being handled jointly by each sport. Council directors, 40 men each representing a different sport, have begun to mobilize competition in the panathlon, Farmer said.

For example, director Robert Markey, representing sailing, has already announced an Illinois Sports Council regatta will be held this summer on Lake Michigan. In bowling, director Paul Krumsie has started a preliminary bowling tournament which will involve nearly 10,000 young bowlers in Illinois. Eliminations will be second round, April 15 and will go on through the summer.

Other directors of sport categories report great interest in the panathlon. Farmer reported, "This is typical of the reaction we're getting all through the state," he said. "It's more than we hoped for in the first panathlon, but if these early indications are valid, we could have 20,000 Illinoisans competing in one form or another in the first summer games," he added.

Madison-Venice Loop Meets Tomorrow Night
An organization meeting for the Madison-Venice Khouris League has been set for 7:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Madison recreation center by Jackie Austin Lewis, commissioner.

The summer boys' baseball program is sponsored by the Madison Lions club, the city of Madison, the Venice park district and the city of Venice. Tentative starting date is the first week of June, Lewis said.

Plaques will be presented to managers of 1964 championship teams. Lewis urged all teams interested in participating this season to have a council state-of-the-meeting, individuals who want to manage or coach are so invited.

Summer, Winter Panathlons

"It's more than we hoped for in the first panathlon, but if these early indications are valid, we could have 20,000 Illinoisans competing in one form or another in the first summer games," he added.

Minor Sports Get Aid
Emphasized in the report is the importance of assisting so-called minor sports in Illinois. Butler added. These are sports popular among small groups and in certain areas of the state. However, lack of mass popular appeal and exposure has retarded their growth over the years, he said.

The sports encouragement program provides each sport, regardless of popularity or appeal, will receive equal emphasis by the council. "Any participation increase in any sport can help the over-all state sports picture," Farmer said.

"For the council to be effective in its programs," Farmer said, "we need the support of press, local groups and individual citizens everywhere in Illinois. When we first started, the total program looked ambitious. But the reactions to it are great," he added.

Farmer asks that all teams or individual athletes in Illinois interested in competing in the panathlon write to the Sports Council at 1000 Oak Brook road, Oak Brook, Ill.

named by the mayor, and not more than two members may be office holders. One must be a registered professional engineer, one a physician, one a manager of a private manufacturing concern, one a representative of labor, one a public office holder, one is to be an attorney and three are to be selected at large.

For the initial board, three are to be named for one-year terms, three for two-year terms and three for three-year terms.

Contract Proposal Filed
A contract proposal by La-Mear-United Disposal Co., present garbage-trash contractor at $147,500-a-year, to do the job for $102,300-a-year under a new three-year contract, was received and filed by the council.

The council has indicated it will award the new contract to National Disposal Co., Barrington, Ill., under a $122,720 bid made March 15. La-Mear-United, a St. Louis firm, did not submit a bid by the March 15 deadline.

Under its new proposal, La-Mear-United offered to hire local men, make two collections a week during hot summer months and provide a sanitary landfill site.

Meeting Last Night
Representatives of National Disposal Co. met last night with the council's Finance committee and newly-elected aldermen to outline its landfill program.

Rutledge said National also is looking into landfill sites in the area to provide the service without added charge. It previously had stated the city would have to provide a site. Mayor-elect Farney said last week he was making arrangements for a nearby landfill location that would be furnished to the city, and that he favored the National firm's contract, provided Granite Cityans are hired.

Rutledge pointed out the city could not ethically accept the $102,300 proposal from La-Mear-United since it was made after the March 15 bids had been opened and the figures made public. Frank Yost, vice-president of La-Mear-United, was present at Monday's council session but was not called upon to speak.

Present for last night's meeting with Donald McClenahan, managing director for National Disposal, were Aldermen Rutledge, Moellen and Whitmer; Alderman-elect Richard Fry and Roy Paulus; Ferd Goewert, executive secretary of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, and Howard Kaseberg, chairman of the county zoning board and local farmer.

Amsted Sets Records For Profits, Dividends

Amsted Industries, parent body of American Steel Foundries here, today reported that earnings in the six months ended March 31 were the highest for any first half-year period in the company's history.

The corporation's board of directors also declared a dividend of 50 cents per share, an increase of five cents per share or 11% from the 45 cents paid in each of the last four quarters.

The dividend is payable June 15 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on May 20.

Net income was $5,658,000, equal to $2.04 per share, up 40% from $1,054,000, or $1.45 per share, in the first half of the 1964 fiscal year.

Six-month sales, also a record for the period, totaled $88,056,000, an increase of $8,588,000 or 10% from $79,468,000 a year earlier.

Earnings in the quarter ended March 31 were $2,585,000, or 93 cents per share, compared with $2,209,000, or 80 cents per share, in the same quarter last year. Sales increased to $42,996,000 from $41,040,000.

Joseph B. Lanterman, Amsted president, said sales of all company product lines in the six months were above the levels of the same period last year.

The largest increase occurred in sales of component parts for new freight cars, some of which are manufactured here, resulting from the continuing high level of car building.

He said that barring a strike in the basic steel industry, operations are expected to continue at a good level, and it appears that earnings in 1965 will exceed the all-time high attained in 1964.

Amsted's expenditures for plant and equipment amounted to $4,800,000 in the six months ended March 31. Plant and equipment expenditures for the entire 1965 fiscal year should approximate $12,000,000.

Key Witness Tells Of Death Warnings In Murder Case

Two witnesses waiting to testify in a St. Louis car driver murder case were threatened with death by a friend of the defendant, according to Capt. Louis Bowman, chief investigator for the county sheriff's office who filed a charge of intimidation of a witness.

Arrested on the charge Monday was Jack Walter Moad, 30, currently of 1708 Cleveland Blvd., who reportedly came here from California to kill the witnesses if they did not leave town before the start of the trial on May 3, Bowman said.

Awaiting trial on a charge of murdering Frank Lafata, 38, St. Louis taxicab driver, is Wilfred C. Bennett, 29, of 2800 Idaho Avenue. Lafata was found dead in a car on Sept. 16 north of the A. O. Smith Corp. plant.

Bowman said he had received a tip on the threats and called in his two key witnesses, and was informed that one was warned that if they both were not out of town within 15 days, they would be killed, or their families would be harmed.

The witness told him "he was going to make sure there were no eye witnesses against his friend in the murder trial," Bowman added.

Moad has an arrest record in the Quad-Cities and in St. Louis from 1949 to 1957, Bowman said, with charges including burglary and larceny, conspiracy to commit theft and forgery. He was bound over to the grand jury in 1959 and was given probation and once was under control of the Illinois Youth Commission.

Bowman said Moad had visited Bennett in the county jail, using an assumed name, and apparently learned the identity of the two witnesses at that time. Authorities are keeping their identity a secret.

Moad is being held in the Madison county jail at Edwardsville in lieu of $2000 bond.

Police Crackdown On Bingo Games Operating in GC

Nightly inspections of private clubs in Granite City are being made by police in a search for any illegal operations, such as bingo games, Police Chief Raymond Willard said today.

"If we find any, we'll halt it," Willard said.

The inspections were started Tuesday night after American Legion Post 113 was ordered to halt its Monday night bingo game in its hall, 24th street and Madison avenue. The Friday night game scheduled for St. Margaret Mary parish also was ordered to halt.

The crackdown which is supported by Mayor-elect Donald Partney, is to cover all phases of gambling. St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary last night canceled its pillowcase festival that was to have been held Sunday at St. Joseph's Church hall. A spokesman for the auxiliary said any tickets purchased can be returned for a refund. The proceeds were to have been used to purchase equipment for the hospital, the auxiliary member said.

Mayor-elect Partney told the Press-Record, "I won't have any gambling. It doesn't matter if it's a club or a church. Gambling is against the law, and I'll issue those orders to the police chief."

Joseph Summers, commander of Legion Post 113, said his organization uses the receipts from the bingo games, which averages $100 to $150-a-week, to finance its programs, such as $250 nursing school scholarships, junior baseball leagues and candidates to the annual Boys' State.

"We also use the funds to aid families of needy Legion members and for hospitalized veterans. I guess we'll have to hold barbecues to raise funds now," he added.

Summers said the bingo game was operated on a local basis with no outside assistance. He said the Legion and auxiliary members did all the work and that patronage averaged 80 to 110 persons.

Top prize was the jackpot which was cash and usually amounted to $150 or several hundred dollars.

Propose Transit

...of $55, over present revenue levels. "If realized," the report said, "this would practically offset the anticipated budget deficit for the current fiscal year of approximately $1,362,000."

Following announcement of the recommendations and release of an accompanying detailed report which reviews accomplishments of the transit system during the two years of its operations and summarizes its financial position, dates were set for a series of public meetings in which details of the new fare plan will be outlined.

First of these meetings were held Wednesday afternoon in the Belleville city hall and Wednesday night in St. Louis.

GC Meeting Tonight
The Granite City meeting will be held this evening in the city hall court room beginning at 7:30. Another meeting will precede the Granite City session at the East St. Louis city hall Tuesday afternoon.

On Friday, meetings will be held during the afternoon in the St. Louis city hall and in the St. Louis county library for south St. Louis city residents.

C. E. Townsend, chairman of the Bi-State Agency board, announced that no official action on the proposed revision of the transit fare structure will be taken until elected officials and the general public in communities served by the system had ample opportunity to be informed of the proposed changes.

R. Gilman Smith, president of W. C. Gilman & Co., Inc., who presented the report in a meeting of Bi-State commissioners Monday afternoon, said "we believe that the proposed fare structure will not only produce the additional revenue needed, but it also incorporates promotional-type incentives that will help transit patronage at the highest possible level and, hopefully, attract new riders."

Smith said that engineers, reviewing the Bi-State Transit system's financial position, found that the "critical financial outlook" of the transit system was attributable to four principal factors:

Transit Riding Declines
These include: the declining volume of transit riding due to increased automobile production and usage; the large number of closing lines necessary to provide adequate route coverage, particularly in St. Louis county and outlying Illinois communities; the burden of debt service charges and other requirements under Bi-State's revenue bond trust indenture; and increased labor costs resulting from the recent negotiated wage contract with the union representing the transit employees.

The report declared that the condition prevails in spite of "the many accomplishments in terms of improved service and equipment, as well as more efficient and economical operation achieved by the system during the first two years of its existence."

Listed among the improvements accomplished by the transit system since it took over consolidated operation of 17 different companies on April 1, 1963, were:

1. Equipment: One hundred seventy new steam, diesel, and electric buses, costing $2,200,000 have been added to the fleet—more new buses than the 15 former component companies purchased in the 10-year period prior to 1963.

2. Fares: Fares have been consolidated throughout the system and the double fares paid formerly by many transit riders have been eliminated.

3. Service: Ten new lines have been added and three existing lines were extended to provide transit service to new communities in the area.

4. Public Information: All phases of the system's public information service have been improved, including the publishing of a new system map, the expansion of timetable mailing service to a volume of 2,500,000 annually, installation of a new electronic distributor system in the telephone information and the doubling of information operators. Schedules also are now posted along all major routes, similar to a practice previously established on Missouri lines.

5. Rapid transit: For the first

ENTERTAINS GRANDCHILDREN

Bruce and Ruth Ellen Webb of Chicago spent the Easter holiday with their grandmother, Mrs. Laura Walton, 2040 Fourth street and other relatives in this area.

MICHIGAN VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Goinz and children, Beth and Bill, of Dearborn, Mich., are visiting Mrs. Goinz's mother, Mrs. Ruth Hildreth, 2025 Sixth street, who returned to Michigan, and drive, spent the weekend in Salem, Mo., at the home of Mrs. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Pearl Bell and daughter, Betty.

They also visited former residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Cross and children, Dempsey, Jr., Mike, Pamela and Mary Beth, 2311 Locan avenue, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cross, of Salem, Mo. Pamela, who has been ill with rheumatic fever, will return to school Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKee and son, Terry, 2641 Circle drive, had an Easter weekend guests their daughter, Mrs. Donna Perry and children, Rodney, Linda, Debbie and Kristy, of Thorla, Mo.

Initial steps have been taken to implement a "new look" study of the possibilities of establishing a rapid transit system in the Bi-State Metropolitan area.

Services Continued
"Over and above these improvements," Mr. Smith said, "it should be recognized that the establishment of this area-wide system under Bi-State ownership has assured the continuance of the existing transit services in the areas which, under the former ownership status, were inevitably headed for complete abandonment."

The new fare system will mean no change in the fare from the Quad-City area to St. Louis since the basic fare of 30 cents is the same as that of the past. The basic fare of 25 cents plus five cents transfer toll. The bi-state toll is eliminated in the new fare system. The Quad-City transfer goes to St. Louis and must take another bus from there to reach its destination. It will receive a 15-cent saving. Under the present system a rider to St. Louis pays 15 cents for a transfer in addition to the basic fare and five-cent bridge toll. Under the new system, there will be no charge for transfers.

These passengers riding with in the central fare area between Granite City and Edwardsville and the Illinois side and the St. Louis City limits on the west, will pay the 30-cent basic fare, however.

Smith explained that the $3.50 weekly pass is expected to attract more riders and increase the revenue of the system. He said the weekly pass offers more flexibility in the use of the system than the one-day or one-way passes. The passes will be available on the buses, while the monthly passes were available only at certain specified outlets.

Backyards Reveal Traces Of Vanishing Americana

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

Each mode of travel has its good features and its handicaps. Walking permits a maximum of observation, but it is somewhat slow and tiresome. Air travel is a time saver, if anyone will really use the time saved, but it is too much like looking at a map. Travel by boat which has been done on some of our streams is little more than looking at the passing banks. It is perhaps the loneliest way to travel.

Travel by automobile, the way most people often go, allows one to pause beside the way, dash or poke along pretty much as he chooses, stop, get out, and prowl about or even turn back to look once more. With the advantages of car travel there are some disadvantages, particularly to the driver. There are hills, curves, rough spots, other cars casually or somewhat indifferently driven, dogs, chickens and children that can't be ignored.

Another means of travel, presently not much used, is by rail. It has one marked advantage—the traveler doesn't have to drive—the trainmen do that for him. If he thus can give his full attention to looking, going at about a mile a minute, he needs to be that. Two recent trips to Washington, D. C. proved close attention pay-off.

Oddments In Cluttered Yards
It all began with the oddments observed in the cluttered yards of East St. Louis as the train left the river bridge. Many of the objects seen from the car window easily are on the list of items that are thought of as being vanishing Americana.

By vanishing Americana I mean those devices, tools and implements that indicate clearly the manner of living of earlier generations of people in America. This vanishing Americana, including many books, manuscripts, assorted documents, early dress as well as utensils used in daily tasks. Things observed from the coach window were of the latter class. Only a few typical specimens are left to arouse memories of older persons and often to puzzle younger people.

Before the train had passed out of East St. Louis, there was the wreckage of a chain-driven truck like those occasionally seen 50 years ago. A very old person will remember the whining rasp the chain spins out as it circles the sprocket. A grindstone on a wooden frame in one backyard brought to mind the callouses produced on the hands of a boy who turned one by the hour. It also serves to recall Franklin's story "Paying Too Much for the Whistle," a few years later there were doghouses made of "tight" barrels like those once used for molasses, linseed oil and even kerosene. The doors of these houses were burlap sacks nailed on the open end.

The Real Dinner Bell
In one backyard there was a dinner bell. Although a sharp lookout was kept for other bells throughout the journey, only an additional half dozen or so appeared. These bells brought to mind a time when they were regularly used to call men from the fields for dinner (noonday). That was before the day of the dollar Ingersoll watch. They also recalled the practice of one old man who upon hearing the bell at noontime would "take out" in the middle of the field, across yaws toward the barn for his drink at the watering trough, his eight ears of corn, plus a forkful of hay. This didn't occur when a full grown man was in charge.

On the back porch of one miserable little hovel there was a large box filled with fire wood, road cross ties. The question remains, "Was the wood being burned in a cast iron box stove or in a tin King Heater, or could it be that the stove was made from an altered oil drum? The chimney was not large enough for a fire pipe.

Could it be that the housewife in that house still was using a woodburning cook stove? Only three or four places are known in southern Illinois where heating and cooking are done with "stove wood." In such cases it apparently is from choice. It might not be so bad as some imagine, for wood burns twice. The first time as it is cut and again as it is burned. An equally miserable looking hovel nearby had a gas meter against the wall, quite a span between the two.

Continuing east across the one-time prairie land from East St. Louis, an abandoned windmill was noticed. A sharp lookout for a hundred miles revealed only three other rusting towers, operable. It is remembered that 50 years or more ago the same stretch would have revealed a hundred.

There are a few bits of orange fence that had been patched up with barbed wire, "bob wire," and still in use. Miles of such fence once stretched across the same fields. The fences then were kept trimmed and trained to form a fence that was, "high, bull strong and pig tight."

Decaying One-Room Schools
Across Illinois several abandoned and decaying one-room school buildings were seen, but not one in operation. This year there only four or five operating in the state. Once there were as many thousand. If you have a chance to see one in operation, do so for soon, not one will be left.

At irregular intervals along the way a lived-in house was seen. Most of these were single, two-story kind with sideroom

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

The gray of beech trees and the white of sycamore against the dark, snow-blotched hillside surely makes the world look cold. Just as horses and cattle standing with their backs to the wind do. Why do they do so? Some say it is to have the air slightly warm before being breathed. It might be.

A hundred other objects can be seen by anyone who looks sharply. Use some spare afternoon driving along by-roads of Southern Illinois and looking for lonely specimens of vanishing Americana.

Set Goal
An all-around man doesn't travel in circles—he progresses toward some given point.

Recipe
Ambition and ability are the main ingredients that equip a man for working wonders.

Not a stick and clay chimney was seen on the trip. In fact the last one seen was near Omaha in Gallatin county a good 50 years ago. There were several old houses though, where the extended roof at the end evidently was built to protect the mud daubed chimney that once was there.

One abandoned horse-drawn roadgrader and a few scrapers remind the observer that there have not always been tractors and dirt moving machinery.

Someone statistically inclined states that there is an average of 300 pounds of honey that could be had for each square mile of land in America. That would give us about 300,000,000 pounds of honey. Five apiaries with more than five hives each were observed.

There were many other remnants of vanishing Americana. One was an operating blacksmith shop. There were three easkets and one coffin shop. One brickyard must have had a million land tiles on its yard. Do people still tile farmland?

MORE ABOUT Quad-Cities

which was adopted two years ago, but it said "area of 100,000 population" where it was intended to say "county of 100,000 population."

Under the proposal, the Madison county section would elect three of the five trustees after its population exceeds that of the St. Clair county section.

The Madison county area of the levee district now pays approximately 40% of the total cost of the district's operation, yet receives only minor benefits in return. Generally higher assessing here adds to the disparity.

On one occasion two years ago, Granite City council members rebelled against "lack of service" by the levee district and planned blanket objections to levee district taxes on behalf of Granite City residents. The action followed receipt of a letter in which the levee district said it would be unable to contribute $100,000 toward sewer improvements in Granite City.

Refusal of the $100,000 in work by the levee district was, in turn, an apparent retaliatory move for an injunction suit brought by a group of Granite City residents to force a vote on a $1,300,000 bond issue which had been sold without bidding.

Of the total issue, $1,200,000 of the amount was to be used on a Centerville township sewer line in St. Clair county.

Previously, millions of dollars of Granite City sewer funds were promised and then withdrawn.

In addition to a noticeable lack of services in comparison to the amount of taxes paid by Quad-City residents is the fact that location of part of the levee district within Madison county creates a constant taxing problem.

While the condition is not caused directly by the levee district, the fact that part of the district lies within Madison county requires the extension of a joint Madison-St. Clair tax rate in the four townships in which the district is located.

Late Tax Cycle Costly
Because of extensive delays in completion of St. Clair county taxing records, certification of a levee district tax rate is primarily so late that it delays collection of taxes in the Quad-City area and forces local area taxing districts to borrow money at interest rather than operate on current funds and invest idle funds.

Collections in Granite City, Nankook, Chouteau and Venice townships last year were more than three months later than elsewhere in Madison county.

In summarizing the articles published in this series, there appears to be a need for legislative revision, particularly the requirement for a guarantee of competitive bidding; restrictions on hiring procedures and policies; a more effective method of determining if work is performed; a formula of treating the limits on expenditures for maintenance work on ditches and culverts; and a requirement for a complete and independent audit of district financial operations.

Band Potential Expanding
Methods for splitting the district along the county line, or means to dissolve the district, also could be provided as well as continuation of the ban on issuance of general obligation bonds without referendum.

Although the levee district has only a little more than $1 million in bonding, payee bond repayments this year will raise to slightly more than $2 million the amount of money that could be raised by bond issues after Dec. 31, 1965.

If there is hope of further legislative control over levee district operations, many believe that legislation must come in the current session of the Senate and House while Republicans continue to maintain Senate control and the House includes many "blue ribbon" legislators.

After the next redistricting, Democrats may be in full control of both houses of the legislature, with the Chicago political machine in charge.

Such a situation would lend even more influence to the levee district and other evils of the East St. Louis Democratic machine, through the affiliation of East St. Louis Mayor Alvin G. Fields with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, boss of the Cook county Democratic organization.

by several cars that did not stop. The body was found on the highway by Joseph Newbern, Waterloo, a truck driver who called police.

Storjohann lived at 29 Moorland drive. He was a native of St. Louis and had been attached to the Engineer Depot since January 1963. He was with an Engineer Company in Europe before coming to Granite City.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, a son, John; two daughters, Theresa and Christina, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Francis Bielefeld and his father, John Storjohann, both of St. Louis.

He also leaves a brother, Richard, of St. Louis, and three sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Cook, Miss Charlene Storjohann and Miss Pamela Bielefeld, all of St. Louis. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column elsewhere in this issue.

Emmett Clark, 49, of St. Louis, was found dead at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday in a panel truck which had rolled down an embankment and overturned at the intersection of Highway 203 and By-pass 66-40 at Mitchell.

State police did not know what time the accident occurred or who had discovered the accident, but believed Clark, a Negro laborer employed in St. Louis, may have become confused in the traffic pattern at the intersection or may have dozed at the wheel.

He was taken to a funeral home here before being transferred to a St. Louis funeral home. An inquest is to be conducted by Robert Thomas, deputy coroner.

Library Week to be Observed Next Week

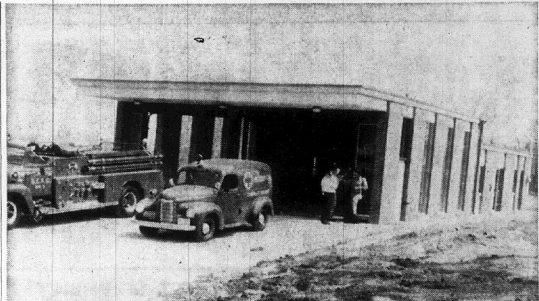

National Library Week will be observed at local public and school libraries next week.

Granite City Librarian Mrs. Mary Gene Knufinke said a number of grade schools already have arranged for tours, including a group of 100 pupils from Maryville school. Treats and souvenirs will be given the youngsters.

Penny Becomes Lodged In Throat of Girl, 3

A small girl, who swallowed a penny which lodged in her throat, was admitted for observation Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The youngster, Jina Gibson, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gibson, 1705 State street, was discharged yesterday.

Hospital's Need For Resident Physician Told

The urgent need for a resident physician at St. Elizabeth Hospital was discussed last night by Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator, who was a guest at a Jaycees dinner meeting held in the hospital library.

Sister Mary Thomas, who welcomed the 20 men present, expressed the appreciation of the staff for the assistance provided by the Jaycees in the monthly immunization clinic. She elaborated on the various problems which confront the hospital in acquiring a resident doctor and quoted the greatest hurdle as being the state law, which requires all resident physicians to be an American citizen and a state-licensed physician.

The hospital administrator went on to say that Mayor-elect Donald Partney recently conferred with her on the problem and is "doing everything possible to remedy the situation."

She pointed out that the annual hospital payroll of $1,560,000 is a definite asset to the community and added, while all purchases are made on bid, whenever possible local firms are given preference.

Woman Hurt in Venice Post-Election Fight

One person was injured and three squad cars of police were called to disperse a crowd of more than 500 persons as the result of a post-election disturbance Tuesday night at 1091 Logan street, Venice, location of political headquarters for Louis Ratliff, who was defeated in his bid for re-election as Venice alderman.

Injured was Mrs. Alberta Jackson, 46, of 1117 Douglas avenue, who received a cut in her right forearm by glass from a show case that was broken during a fight between a man and his wife. Police said the wound required 14 stitches. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and released after treatment.

According to police reports a large crowd had gathered at the Ratliff headquarters, located in a former store room, while election workers were being paid. Police said a woman identified as Helen Hall attacked her husband with a large knife and while he was tending her off with a chair several other persons became involved in the fight and were knocked to the floor.

Ratliff was alderman of the Third Ward for one term and was beaten in his re-election bid Tuesday by Rinnie J. Wince.

Nameoki PTA Elects Coleman

The Nameoki school PTA elected 1965-66 officers at a monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The PTA prayer was given by Mrs. Carol Merz and Walter Volkmar, president, led the members in the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Vera Farrow, program chairman, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Johnson of Madison, who showed color slides of West and East Berlin and African and Asia countries. On display were articles the Johnsons had collected during their travels.

Volkmar conducted the business meeting and announced an Area PTA Council pre-convention course for delegates April 27 at Coolidge junior high, today's instruction for new officers at Coolidge and an annual exhibit May 17 at Granite City high school.

Nameoki PTA officers elected were Ronald Coleman, president; Mrs. Carol Merz, vice-president; Mrs. Joan Puck, recording secretary; Mrs. Reila Knapp, corresponding secretary; and James Roller, treasurer.

No Agents at Polls
No formal complaints were Mayor Maeras, 474, 456, 445, lodged over election day activities. The FBI also was asked by 114, 143, 248, 120 and 66, total independents to place agents at 601 City clerk, Lux, 328, the polls, but apparently these 500, 491, 565 and 307, total 2381; were none on hand.

GC to Add to List Industrial Firms to Help Increase Payroll Savings

A list of seven properties to be processed by City Building Inspector Earl Blumquist was presented to Granite City council members Monday night by Alderman Partney, chairman of the Planning committee.

The locations listed were 728 Twenty-ninth place, 713 Twenty-ninth street, 730 Twenty-sixth place, all in North Granite; 2133 Fourteenth street; 2905 Edwardsville road, 2809 Harding avenue and 2911 Cayuga street.

In answer to queries by aldermen concerning other properties that were being processed for condemnation, Partney said he would submit a progress report to the council at a later date.

Alderman Dallas, First Ward, called for legal action to raze homes that have been boarded up by Granite City Steel Co. in his ward. He said residents of the area were concerned over their safety since transients frequently enter the vacant houses. The request was referred to the building inspector to be aided by the city attorney.

A week-long campaign to increase use of the payroll savings plan by Quad-City industrial employees will begin May 10, it was announced at a kickoff luncheon Tuesday by James O'Connor, area manager of the U. S. Treasury Department.

O'Connor and Harry Wood, deputy director for the Treasury, spoke to Henry D. Karand, Madison county chairman, who was ill. About 25 persons, most of them representing industrial firms, attended the meeting in the Granite City Steel Co. executive dining room.

Wood termed the campaign "an invitation rather than a solicitation" for employees to enroll in the program which involves systematic payroll deductions for the purchase of bonds.

O'Connor pointed to the following advantages of the "Star-Savings Plan":

1. Tax factor—Payment of income tax on E series bond interest may be deferred until bonds are redeemed. This means the saver could redeem the bonds after they reach a lower tax bracket, such as in retirement years.
2. Economy and convenience—No fees for purchase or redemption.

3. Safety—E and H bonds are registered in owner's name and are replaceable at no charge if lost, stolen or destroyed.

4. Liquidity—E bonds may be redeemed for full purchase price plus accumulated interest within two months of purchase; H bonds after six months.

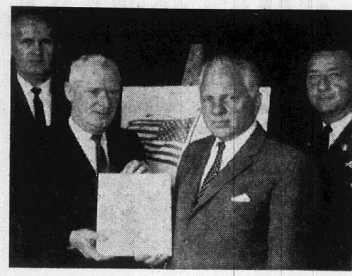

5. Peace of mind—No risk of market fluctuation since principal and interest are full guaranteed.

A 10-minute film was shown featuring President Johnson and Secretary Douglas Dillon commenting on the merits of savings bonds. The film stressed the stabilizing effect of bonds on the national economy.

"The Treasury's borrowing from the public through bonds is not inflationary," O'Connor said. "This only tends to level off the spending habits of the people."

He added: "The ease with which an employee may save through the automatic, systematic payroll savings plan makes it as easy to save as not to save."

Similar campaigns will be conducted across the nation including East St. Louis, Springfield, Decatur and St. Louis.

dominion over the atom

Man will never really conquer the atom until he conquers his fear of the atom—his fear of annihilation. He needs a spiritual understanding of himself, of the universe, and of God. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Jules Cern of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. The title is "Christian Science: Dominion Over the Atom." Everyone is welcome.

Freedom's Meaning

Government tends to grow in size, cost and complexity out of proportion to the essential needs of the people. The danger of ever-expanding bureaucracies is that they over-regulate, over-restrict every activity of citizens.

1600 Scouts to Collect Clothing Bags Saturday

On Saturday morning, more than 1600 Boy Scouts in the Cahokia Mound Council will pick up the bags they delivered last week as part of a "good turn" for the handicapped people employed by Goodwill Industries. Local families have been asked to fill the bags with clothing, shoes, toys, and other small items they no longer need.

Containers were left at more than 13,000 homes in the Quad-Cities and Maryville, Collinsville, Glen Carbon, Edwardsville, Greenville, Marine, Piquette, Troy, and Pocahton.

Goodwill Industries is a non-profit agency providing training, rehabilitation and sheltered employment for crippled and disabled people. Over 200 handicapped persons are employed at the Goodwill plant in St. Louis, including many from Illinois. They will repair and refurbish the items collected by the scouts preparing them for sale through 39 Goodwill stores in Illinois and Missouri.

City's Bill List Totals $29,570 For 2-Week Period

A bill list totaling $29,570 for two weeks expenses was approved Monday night by Granite City council members. Separated from the list was a $1416 payment to David J. Johnston & Associates as public engineer retainer for March and April.

Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, called for the separation, pointing out the firm submitted a bill listing the amount only as a retainer. "We told them we wanted a detailed bill," he advised the council.

Other amounts paid to the Johnston firm, included on the bill list, were $2742 for engineering on the 23rd-Adams street track removal and drainage project and $115 for right-of-way plat preparations for the Naticook road widening project.

A. H. Seebold Co. contractor, was paid $15,823 for work completed on the 23rd-Adams street project under estimate No. 1. GC Gets New Site For Cinder Pile At American Steel Reconsideration is to be given next Monday night to an offer made to the city by American Steel Foundries to permit the city to store, without charge, on the plant's property its stockpile of cinder, salt and other street materials.

The offer was turned down this week when a complaint was made by Fifth Ward Alderman Steve Basarich that dust from the stockpiles might blow onto nearby residential property. However, Basarich inspected the site Tuesday and said he found it to be far from homes. He added that he would withdraw his objection.

The presentation was made by Alderman Rutledge, who said the tract is on the south side of Naticook street, off of Walnut street and near the steel firm's parking lot.

The city was notified several months ago to remove the materials from a location at Niedringhaus avenue and Adams street, leased from the American Steel firm. The offer from the steel firm was made by R. O. Tibbals, American Steel vice-president and former works manager of the local plant. It specifies the city will be liable in the event of damage or injury and that no equipment may be stored there.

Arrangements for the tract were made by Street Supt. William Warfield, who was not present for Monday night's session. Most of the material has been moved to the new location, it was reported.

Referred to the Street committee for study of alternate proposals were two bids for a new roof for the street department garage at 19th and Bancroft streets. The lower bid was $3293 by Biebel Roofing Co. and $3662 by Quad-City Roofing Co.

Legal Work for City to Get Old Cemetery Being Started

of the St. Mark's Catholic cemetery in East Granite was authorized Monday night by Granite City council members. Once the conveyance and the acquisition ordinance are completed, the council plans to lease the tract to the Granite City park district for the development of a quiet park, with walkways, benches and trees and flowers.

The council committee making the recommendation for the legal steps to be taken as soon as possible is made up of council members Skubish, Mrs. Bettine and Nona. It resulted from preliminary work carried out by William Jenkins, assistant city inspector, who conferred with officials of the Springfield Diocese.

The committee noted the cemetery is in a dilapidated condition with broken and overturned headstones. The city has frequently cut the weeds in past years.

Menace of Communism To be Topic of Talk

"Whether America in 1965?" will be the topic of an address by the Rev. August A. Brustat, Ph.D., a Lutheran pastor in Scarsdale, N. Y., Sunday evening at 7:30 a clock at Concordia Lutheran Church. His talk will deal with the problem of Christian awareness of the menace of Communism.

As a lecturer Dr. Brustat has appeared in each of the continental United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba. He delivered an address here in 1955.

Dr. Brustat is a member of the American Institute of Archaeology. He has traveled and worked in the Near East and this summer will lead a tour of the Eastern Mediterranean countries. Years of anti-communist "in-fighting" in his own community, acquaintance with leadership in the House Un-American Activities committee and personal friendship with Herbert Filbeck of "I was a Communist for the FBI" fame, have made him a knowledgeable author of numerous articles on the menace of Communism. Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, church pastor, pointed out.

GC Seeks Aid from Rep. Harris for Nameoki Rd. Widening

Council members voted Monday night to call upon State Rep. Lloyd "Curly" Harris to help speed the improvement of Nameoki road.

Disagreement between City Atty. George Filloff Jr. and district highway department officials over procedures for about 20 right-of-way condemnations has stymied the proposed schedule set early this year for the widening work to be started this summer north of Madison avenue.

Filloff told the council he has supplied the state with all data they have sought, but district highway officials say the information needed for quick-take proceedings still is needed. Filloff told council members it would take the city a year or more to go through courts with the condemnations, but that the state could handle them more quickly. State officials at French Village said Tuesday a letter of instruction will be sent immediately to the attorney.

Altdeman Ford Johnson suggested the city "go to the top boss in Springfield" to get the problem settled, and Mayor Davis was instructed to ask Rep. Harris to aid the city.

Street Resurfacing
Additional streets needing resurfacing were proposed by the council members to be financed with sales tax funds. While no direct action was taken, pending the receipt of a unit price from MacLair Asphalt Co., the recommendations included East 27th street from Washington avenue to Nameoki road; 23rd street from Adams to State street; the Boyle-Spaulding avenue intersection and the south boulevard of 27th street from Benton to State street.

The requests poured forth after Alderman Stenberg suggested the asphalt resurfacing of the 2600 block of Benton street be extended to the north boulevard of 27th street and also that the resurfacing of the south boulevard of 27th street be considered. He was authorized to obtain a unit cost figure.

MacLair is in the process of resurfacing the 2600 blocks of Benton, Cleveland, Delmar and Edison avenues, a 100-foot section in the 2500 block of Benton street and the Voelz-Spaulding avenue intersection where the concrete surfaces are breaking down. One block of 20th street, a brick surface between Edison avenue and State street, was paved with asphalt on Monday.

A. W. Pearson of the city engineering staff reported that the concrete pavement on 23rd street was breaking down and would not last through another winter. Track removal and installation of a drainage line currently is being undertaken along 23rd street and also Adams street.

RR Crossing Needs Repairs
Alderman Basarich called for immediate repairs to railroad crossings throughout the city, pointing out that dangerous chucks have been developing for over a year.

Council members decided to send another request to the Illinois Commerce Commission for action by the railroads.

Mayor-elect Partney recommended the city attorney notify the railroads that the city would proceed with repairs and send bills covering costs to the railroads. He also noted that no steps toward repairs were taken after last year's complaints and visits by ICC officials.

A resolution is to be prepared for city acceptance of their conveyance and a 250x70-foot parcel of ground at the Nameoki street water drainage ditch to widen the St. Clair avenue bridge and provide a sidewalk. The city was notified by A. K. Kraemer, engineer for the levee district, of the trustees' approval of the conveyance.

Approval by the U.S. Public Health Service of changes for stainless steel materials in the filter system for the city's sewage treatment plant was received by the city from C. W. Klassen of the state Sanitary Water Board.

Also received Monday night was a letter from the Interstate Air Pollution Study group thanking the city for its cooperation in conducting a study for sulphur dioxide. Praise was given William Jenkins, assistant city inspector, for his work in reading the measuring devices on a daily basis.

Once the data is compiled, the city will be furnished with a report.

donations; and the Granite City Press-Record and Radio Station Wign for publicity.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Major John Paton of St. Louis, Salvation Army divisional secretary, who discussed the one-hundred-year history of the world-wide organization and explained the various phases of its work. Rev. Sims offered the invocation and the benediction was given by Lavern Parker, Capt. Walker's Comments.

In presenting a resume of the annual report, Captain Mildred Walker of the local office expressed her gratitude to "our stockholding public for your investment in humanity." She said much of the effectiveness and success of the Salvation Army program in the Quad-City area is due to the interest, influence, advice and practical support of the representative citizens on the advisory board.

Captain Walker praised the board members for accepting responsibility in assisting the Army in the coordination of its program with other religious and charitable organizations and in its relations with the federal and state governments.

In her report, she outlined the various services and activities of the local office. In addition to the many family services, trans-ent welfare, disaster work, counseling and other relief programs, Captain Walker said, the Army also regularly conducts teenage programs, a Golden Agers Club for senior citizens, Sunbeams and quartet troops for girls and Women's Home Leagues groups, among others.

During 1964, she went on to say, 808 indoor services, classes and other group activities were conducted with a combined total attendance of 17,107 persons.

Assistance for 563 Families

Other assistance provided by the local office, included: Emergency grocery orders supplied, 70; garments provided, 1038; shoes supplied, 332; bedding, furniture and miscellaneous items, 392; food orders supplied, 5; number of families aided, 503.

Lodging provided, 4; meals given, 193; number of transients assisted, 193; visits, 13; individuals visited, 1915; publications distributed, 1773; articles and gifts distributed, 1915; number of hours spent visiting, 273; in-service hours, 10,000; work the Army served ten dinners, comprising 397 individuals, and distributed 108 gifts.

A general fund statement for the preceding 12 months, showed a total income of $31,617; received from a United Way appropriation of $20,275; self-earned donor income of $6661; self-earned operating income of $4397; plus 1963 balances of $333 and $347.

The financial summary continued with disbursements of $8804, for salaries, wages, hospitalization and income tax; which included an annual salary of $2120 for Captain Walker; building and equipment, $4552; communication, transportation and administration, $3261; service and activities, $12,681; and cash in transit, $1745.

In looking to future programs of the Salvation Army in the Tri-Cities area, Captain Walker discussed the proposed erection of a modern, up-to-date, Clidland building to replace the present one at Grand avenue and Nineteenth street. She said the proposed $175,000 fully-equipped center is vitally needed to meet the requirements of the Salvation Army's ever-growing program for youth of all ages.

How to control giant foxtail in corn all season without carryover problems.

One spray of Atrazine 80W gives you effective control of giant foxtail for the entire season.

Just broadcast Atrazine right after the first flush of foxtail has emerged and follow with a rotary hoeing or shallow cultivation.

Full season control with Atrazine prevents foxtail from germinating late in the season and producing seeds that will make your foxtail problem even worse next year.

Avoiding a carryover problem is easy. Just be sure you apply Atrazine at the rate recommended for your particular soil type and do not exceed 3 1/4 lbs. of Atrazine 80W per acre broadcast, or 1 1/4 lbs. per acre in a 12-14 inch band.

You'll stop giant foxtail and increase your yields.

Ask your local dealer for Atrazine 80W herbicide.

Foreign Security Tax Filing Deadline April 30

April 30 is the deadline for filing of returns and payment of any tax due by United States persons who acquired foreign securities from a foreign person during the first quarter of 1965. District Director of Internal Revenue Jay G. Philpott said today.

This is required by the Interest Equalization Tax law enacted last year which imposes an excise tax on such transactions. The return, Form 7870, and instructions and related documents may be obtained from Internal Revenue offices.

April 30 also is the deadline for filing brokers' quarterly information returns, Form 3045, reporting to Internal Revenue transactions covered by the Interest Equalization Tax law.

Director Philpott said the tax itself does not apply to acquisition of foreign securities from a United States person, although a return covering such transactions generally is required.

Burns Plans Role in Future City Elections

Terming Tuesday's Madison voting a "moral victory," Robert L. Burns, defeated mayor candidate, said yesterday that "we will regroup our forces" and take an active role in future city elections.

"We have only begun to fight. We have shown that Madison is still a part of this great country. Regardless of threats, harassment and character assassination, we will not be deterred. We will fight on with determination toward ultimate victory," Burns said. He estimated his campaign spending at $200.

$246,500 GC Sales Tax Going for City Operating Costs

Funds transfers including nearly a quarter-million dollars from the sales tax reserve were approved Monday night by Granite City council members to replenish nine general fund accounts which showed deficits on the March 31 financial report by the treasurer and comptroller. The current fiscal year ends April 30.

In addition, $50,000 is being transferred from the tax collection commission, a general fund account. The actual amount to be transferred from the sales tax special account is $246,500. On March 31, the sales tax reserve had a balance of $496,821 and there was $102,679 in the tax commissions account.

The use of the large amount of sales tax funds for general operating costs was predicted early in the 1964-65 fiscal year by Comptroller John Doohier. "As the fiscal year's budget was prepared, Doohier said that if projects were undertaken, the city's use of sales tax funds would be a large amount. Among the projects are the current $46,900 track removal and drainage line installation on Adams street and on 23rd street and the $15,000 resurfacing projects for individual blocks on all streets—all being financed with sales tax funds instead of motor fuel tax funds.

The total transfer of funds amounts to $336,500.

Allocation of Funds
Allocations from the transfer of the funds will be as follows:

Fire Department, $274,353 and a $30,327 deficit; water, $16,278 and a $6057 balance; street department, $234,879 and a $64,838 deficit; street lighting, $21,948 and a $2740 balance; pumping station, $332 and a $3058 balance; general government, $81,154 and a $588 deficit; city hall, $23,627 and a $249 deficit; police department, $233,113 and a $19,651 deficit; inspection department, $24,086 and a $388 deficit; election, $154 and $1072 balance; sanitation, $139,339 and a $25,780 deficit; interest and judgment, $11,667 and a $2524 balance; dog catching, $9,616 and a $1454 balance; contingent fund, $29,311 and a $2258 deficit; tax commissions, $20,761 and a $102,679 deficit; school crossing guards, $8602 and an $8238 deficit; city planning, $4311, and a $448 balance.

Brig. Gen. D. E. Breakfield, director of maintenance, U.S. Army Supply & Maintenance Command, presented Col. Charles B. Schweizer, commanding officer, Granite City Army Depot, with the National Safety Council's Merit Award in ceremonies Monday at the Depot.

The award was made for the period July 5, to Nov. 30, 1964 during which time 1,028,506 civilian man-hours were worked without a last-time accident. The depot conducted a "war on accidents" program during that time to constantly remind employees of the importance of safety consciousness.

In his presentation of the award, Gen. Breakfield said that "accidents reduce production and are a sad statistic for any operation, but worst of all someone gets hurt." He added that anytime you go over 1,000,000 manhours without a last-time accident, everyone is conscious of the accident possibility. In closing, he said "as I present this award, I know I'm presenting it to all the employees who are responsible for this accomplishment."

Next Goal 3,000,000
Col. Schweizer, in accepting the award said that "everyone of us are responsible for this award and in closing he said 'as we see the safety flag flying, we can all be proud and our next goal is 3,000,000 accident-free manhours."

Small replicas of the award were presented to Major Alvin L. Morgan, director of directorate for services, Major George B. Thomson, director for directorate for maintenance, William Barker, director for comptroller directorate, Major Bruce Walker, director for directorate for administration, and William Jenkins, executive director, directorate for supply and transportation.

Granite City Army Depot is under the command of the U.S. Army Supply and Maintenance Command and headquartered in Washington, D.C. The U.S. Army Supply and Maintenance Command is responsible for the material support of Army forces worldwide. It must coordinate and lead the efforts of about 35,000 Army civilians and 2500 military personnel operating the SMC controlled depot and terminal commands. This task includes control of an annual expenditure of $300 million for storing, moving or otherwise maintaining in readiness condition a $12.5 billion segment of the Army inventory of equipment and supplies.

Adult Education Program for Public Aid Recipients in Illinois Get High Rating

The state of Illinois offers the most extensive statewide education programs in the nation for adult public aid recipients, according to a report released by Greenleigh Associates, a research and management consulting firm of New York and Chicago. The firm specializes in evaluations of health, education and welfare programs.

The Illinois programs are cited as a pioneering effort, with more students enrolled than are in similar classes in all the other states combined. In January 1965 more than 12,000 public aid recipients were enrolled in about 200 programs in 34 of the state's most populous counties in an organized effort to upgrade their education and job skills so they can become self-supporting through permanent employment.

ADA Case Reduction

The educational programs in Illinois are recognized as a primary reason for the reduction in the number of Aid to Dependent Children cases in recent years. Greenleigh Associates, Inc., made the survey at the request of the Department of Public Aid and the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. The two agencies have been cooperating in the development of adult education and training programs for public aid recipients under the provisions of Senate Bill 1228, passed by the legislature in 1963. Purpose of the survey is to assess the effectiveness of the programs and to make recommendations toward their improvement.

The report is expected to help the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to continue providing a quality program in this pioneer field of education.

900 Interviews

The study was conducted in Cook, St. Clair, Jackson, Saline and Williamson Counties. Greenleigh representatives observed the classes in session, examined the curricula and instructional materials and interviewed 900 students and former students, plus teachers, caseworkers, educators and public instruction and Public Aid officials.

The Greenleigh report describes the deficiencies that have occurred—and were expected—in launching an unprecedented statewide education and training program for public aid recipients. However, furtherance of plans to pattern the programs after a daily, full-time, comprehensive curriculum, such as those operating in East St. Louis, Eldorado and Cairo, is strongly recommended.

Other recommendations contained in the report:

Adult Teaching Methods

Development of instructional methods and materials appropriate for teaching adults to replace their own unskilled and/or for use in teaching children.

Whenever possible, to stress occupational and vocational information and training in adult basic education classes.

Recruitment of instructors on the basis of their abilities to teach adults in basic education courses, in preference to selecting them primarily because of their competence and experience at the elementary level.

Investment of additional time and funds in development of child care facilities for children of parents enrolled in classes.

Improvement of process of selecting recipients for the program, pre-enrolling, counseling and testing and record keeping, particularly with respect to student attendance and progress in the program.

Extension of education and training programs to include public aid recipients, former recipients and potential recipients of public aid. At present, the provisions of Senate Bill 1228 apply only to public aid recipients.

During Visit Here

Amvets National Activities Outlined by U. S. Commander

Activities by the national Amvets organization which resulted in temporarily halting the shutdown of 31 veterans hospitals, as recommended in a nationwide economy program, were discussed by the Amvets National Commander, Lincoln S. Tamraz of Chicago, who with other national officials were guests Monday evening of Granite City Amvets Post 51.

More than 100 persons heard the national veterans leader who spoke following a reception and buffet supper at the Amvets Post home, 2109 Lakeview drive. He was accompanied here by Arnold Haak of Lincoln, state Amvets commander; James Gwaltney of Harrisburg, Ill., national service officer; Mrs. Marie Rodden of Waterloo, Ia., national auxiliary president; and Mrs. Charlene Hilland of Chicago, Illinois auxiliary president.

Tamraz, who consulted personally with President Lyndon B. Johnson on the effects of the recommended hospital shutdown policy, reported to local members that the president ordered a re-evaluation of the program after strong protests were made by the Amvets and other national veterans organizations.

A director with the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs has held office in all levels of the half-million strong veterans group. He also discussed veterans benefits, a new Amvets insurance plan and a proposed discount mail-order prescription service to be conducted by a veterans' firm. He also sought donations for a shoes and clothing drive being sponsored nationally for children in the economically-depressed Appalachia area.

William B. Webb Jr., Post 51 commander, welcomed the honored guests and introduced State Commander Haak, who spoke briefly on the state's future programs and projects.

Mrs. Ann Tucker, Post 51 auxiliary president, introduced Mrs. Rodden, who heads the 20,000-member national auxiliary. Mrs. Rodden for two years was named "National Executive Council Woman of the Year." She is a charter member of the Amvets auxiliary and has held numerous offices in her 18 years with the organization.

to the local group that Illinois expects to lose an auxiliary membership of more than 200 by June. She added that Illinois currently holds the nation's highest state membership total.

Prior to their arrival in Granite City, the dignitaries toured the Veterans Hospital in Marion, Ill. They are expected to visit several other posts enroute to Chicago, where they will attend a national executive council meeting next week.
